DRl's annual Young Lawyers Seminar is a unique program designed to help young lawyers enhance their skills and also learn how to market those skills effectively to individuals inside and outside of the office. This year, get the best of both worlds with a faculty that includes veteran trial lawyers who will demonstrate how to conduct five different phases of trial and also learn from your peers and a marketing professional about building your practice. In addition, you will get the in-house counsel perspective on what you can do to position yourself to obtain and keep their business.

New this year! If you are unable to travel to Denver, register for live stream and attend the Young Lawyers Seminar as a virtual event and potentially earn CLE credit without leaving your desk.

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN

- Top flight trial tactics from start to finish—watch preeminent trial lawyers and learn how to pick your jury, cross-examine witnesses, present effective opening and closing statements, and win
- How to rise to the top, including developing your own book of business, making partner, and assisting with client retention
- Steps to make yourself valuable at every stage of trial—even if you are not trial counsel—and learn ways to get practical courtroom experience in the age of the disappearing jury trial

PRESENTED BY DRI's Young Lawyers Committee

Segments and Fact Pattern

Christiane R. Fife, *Schwabe Williamson &
Wyatt*, Portland, Oregon

11:15 a.m. Trial Skills—Watch and Learn: Voir Dire

During the first in this series of five presentations, watch and learn as a skilled trial attorney conducts voir dire. Learn the art of picking a jury, as well as how you can provide value to a client or trial counsel, even if you are not the one conducting the jury examination.

Niall A. Paul, Spilman Thomas & Battle PLLC,
Charleston, West Virginia

12:00 p.m. Lunch (on your own)

12:00 p.m. Fast Pitch Program (program runs until 2 p.m.; preregistration required)

Take charge of your career by honing your business development skills. Young lawyers will work with in-house counsel on making an effective business pitch, with the young lawyer pitching for 5–10 minutes and then receiving immediate individualized feedback. To preregister, see page 3.

1:15 p.m. Motions in limine: Help Your Team Win the Case Before Trial Begins

Learn from a fellow young lawyer why motions in limine are important, how to spot evidentiary issues to address with motions, and how these motions can provide you with the opportunity to shine in front of your partners and clients.

C. Meade Hartfield, Baker Donelson Bearman Caldwell & Berkowitz PC, Birmingham, Alabama

1:45 p.m. Trial Skills—Watch and Learn: Opening Statements That Elevate Your Case

Hear a comprehensive opening statement conducted by a rising star trial lawyer. Learn not just the basics of an effective opening statement, but the details, steps, and hooks that will have a jury focused on your case from the outset of trial.

Zandra E. Foley, Thompson Coe Cousins & Irons LLP, Houston, Texas

2:40 p.m. Refreshment Break

SPONSORED BY Hill Ward Henderson

3:00 p.m. Effective Mediation Strategies for Pattern Litigation and Beyond

10:00 a.m. Refreshment Break

SPONSORED BY MRC

10:20 a.m. Planning for the Trek to Trial: Use of Depositions for Trial

When preparing for a deposition, sometimes we forget that what we ultimately ask could either end up in the hands of a trial attorney looking to impeach a witness on the stand or become the witness's only trial testimony. Actual deposition questions that translated well or flopped at trial will aid in this discussion.

R. Craig Mayfield, Hill Ward Henderson, Tampa, Florida

11:10 a.m. Trial Skills—Watch and Learn: Cross-Examination

An experienced trial lawyer will discuss how to dissect the plaintiffs' case by using their own witnesses against them. You won't want to miss this demonstration of a finely tuned cross-examination.

James L. Pattillo, Norman Wood Kendrick & Turner, Birmingham, Alabama

12:00 p.m. Lunch (on your own)

12:00 p.m. Diversity and Women's Luncheon (not included in registration fee)

To attend this event, you must RSVP to the invitation that will be emailed to you once registered.

1:30 p.m. Planning Your Ascent: Positioning Yourself for Increased Opportunity Early in Your Practice

Mr. Maples will discuss key areas upon which a young lawyer should focus to achieve practice related goals, including developing quality work product; being profitable; finding the right mentor; developing a specialty; and leveraging second chair opportunities.

Marcus M. Maples, Sirote & Permutt PC, Birmingham, Alabama

2:00 p.m. Refreshment Break

SPONSORED BY Schwabe Williamson & Wyatt

2:15 p.m. Trial Skills—Watch and Learn: Closing Arguments

Closing argument is the opportunity to bring your case together, show the weak points in the plaintiff's case, and ultimately win the case for your client. In this demonstration, you'll see the effect of a successful closing argument.

Terrance A. Bostic, St. Petersburg, Florida

3:00 p.m. Ethics: Why You Should Never Emulate TV Lawyers

Lawyers on our favorite TV legal dramas often confuse zealous representation with being a zealot. Former securities lawyer, corporate vice president, and stand-up comedian Sean Carter will demonstrate why we should never emulate these characters in the real practice of law.

Sean Carter, Lawpsided Seminars, Mesa, Arizona

4:00 p.m. Adjourn

FAST PITCH PROGRAM

Preregistration: Young Lawyers who want to participate must check the Fast Pitch box on the registration form (page 9) and preregister by June 12, 2014. Please allow three weeks processing for all mailed registrations. To be eligible to preregister, you must be registered for the seminar and be a member of DRI. If you meet the previous conditions, checking the box on the registration page and returning it with your seminar registration ensures that you are preregistered.

Selection Process: Available Fast Pitch slots will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Although every effort will be made to accommodate all preregistrants, preregistration does not guarantee selection. All preregistrants will be notified via e-mail approximately a week prior to the seminar regarding selection status.

Schedule/Pairings: The Fast Pitch schedule (including times and pairings) will be posted during the networking reception on Wednesday evening. Requests for a specific time slot or pairing with in-house counsel or claims managers cannot be accommodated, and any effort by attendees to switch times or pairings will result in forfeiture of selection.

This program is for training purposes only. Business origination cannot be guaranteed as a result of participating in the exercise.

FACULTY

Terrance A. Bostic spent more than 10 years as vice president and associate corporate counsel for Raymond James Financial, representing it in FINRA arbitration claims, customer complaints, and regulatory inquiries. During his 33 years of legal practice, he has worked as an Assistant United States Attorney; Assistant Minority Counsel to the United States Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations; and in private practice, focused on complex civil and criminal litigation related to racketeering, bank fraud, securities fraud, antitrust, embezzlement, environmental crimes, and money laundering.

Sean Carter is a lawyer, author, comedian, and self-described “Humorist at Law” with Lawpsided Seminars in Mesa, Arizona. He has provided his unique brand of CLE (comedic legal education) for more than 250 organizations. His programs all have one thing in common—humor, and plenty of it. He is the author of the comedic legal treatise, If It Does Not Fit, Must You Acquit?: Your Humorous Guide to the Law. Mr. Carter has also written numerous syndicated legal humor columns.

Christiane R. Fife is a shareholder with Schwabe Williamson & Wyatt in Portland, Oregon. Her practice includes the defense of product liability, premises liability, breach of warranty, breach of contract, and disability and life insurance coverage cases. Ms. Fife is the program chair of this seminar and has been a steering committee member of DRI’s Young Lawyers Committee since 2007. She is also a member of the steering committee for DRI’s Product Liability Committee.

Zandra E. Foley is a partner with Thompson Coe Cousins & Irons LLP in Houston, where she focuses on litigation in state and federal courts. Ms. Foley frequently represents individuals, businesses, and professionals in tort and contract litigation, including claims of malpractice, property damage, death and serious injury, and intentional torts. She has been recognized as a “Texas Super Lawyer Rising Star” and is a member of DRI’s Professional Liability Committee.

Ruth Anderson Gates is senior counsel in the product liability group at Nissan North America Inc. in Farmington Hills, Michigan. Prior to joining the company in 2006, she practiced with the largest law firm in Austin, Texas, where the majority of her practice was devoted to representing automotive and pharmaceutical clients in product liability actions. She co-authored “An Overview of Oklahoma Product Liability Law,” 73 Okla. B.J. 2231 (2002), which won the Oklahoma Bar Journal’s “Golden Quill Award.”

Lisa Gilford, a partner in the Los Angeles office of Skadden Arps Slate Meagher & Flom LLP, was recently named as one of the “Top 100 Lawyers” by the Los Angeles Daily Journal and is consistently listed among the “Top Women Litigators” in California. She focuses on class actions, product liability law, and jury trials. She has represented major members of the automotive, insurance, communications, oil and gas, aerospace, chemical, manufacturing, and pharmaceutical industries.

C. Meade Hartfield is an attorney with Baker Donelson Bearman Caldwell & Berkowitz PC, with offices in Birmingham, Alabama, and Jackson, Mississippi. She focuses her practice primarily on product liability, namely drug and medical device litigation. She has represented clients nationwide in other industries, including automotive, aviation, environmental, industrial equipment, insurance, and financial services. Ms. Hartfield currently serves as the social media vice chair for DRI’s Drug and Medical Device Committee and publications chair for the Women in the Law Committee.

Jennifer Snyder Heis is a partner at Ulmer & Berne LLP in Cincinnati, where she concentrates her practice in pharmaceutical and product liability litigation. Ms. Heis represents clients both nationally, in multidistrict litigation and coordinated state proceedings, and locally. She is the chair of DRI’s Young Lawyers Committee and also is active with DRI’s Drug and Medical Device Committee.

Loretta O. Hoskins is a partner at Chaffe McCall LLP in New Orleans. Her practice focuses on commercial litigation, health care law, and railroad litigation. She appears regularly in state and federal district and appellate courts throughout Louisiana. In 2012 and 2013, she was named a “Top Lawyer” in medical malpractice law and appellate practice in New Orleans Magazine. Ms. Hoskins is also a member of the steering committee for DRI’s Young Lawyers Committee.

Thomas G. Jacks is senior counsel at Underwood Perkins PC in Dallas, concentrating on commercial litigation and intellectual property matters involving patents, trademarks, and copyrights. He is AV rated by Martindale Hubbell and has been recognized as a “Super Lawyers Rising Star” in intellectual property litigation. Mr. Jacks is a program second vice chair for this seminar and a steering committee member of DRI’s Young Lawyers Committee.

Jill D. Jacobson is senior litigation counsel for Husqvarna Professional Products Inc. in Charlotte, North Carolina, handling all litigation and litigation-related matters. Husqvarna Professional Products Inc. is the world’s largest producer of outdoor power products, including chainsaws, trimmers, lawn mowers, and garden tractors. Before joining Husqvarna, Ms. Jacobson was a trial lawyer whose practice was focused on product liability litigation. She also served as national counsel for various pattern litigation and mass tort matters.

Kelly E. Jones, a partner at Harris Beach PLLC in New York City, focuses in New York and New Jersey on litigation and consulting involving FDA- and EPA-regulated products, including pharmaceuticals, medical devices, cosmetics, food, and chemicals. Ms. Jones defends clients in mass tort, class action, and product liability litigation nationwide. She is the first vice chair of DRI's Young Lawyers Committee.

Mary Re Knack, a member in the Seattle office of Williams Kastner, focuses on litigation relating to health care, insurance, product liability, mass tort, and civil matters. She provides business, regulatory, licensing, and privacy-related services to health care providers, the health care industry, and employers. Her insurance practice involves coverage and bad faith matters, plus guidance on compliance with Section 111 of the MMSEA and the Medicare Secondary Payer Act. Ms. Knack is a member of DRI's Law Institute.

Marcus M. Maples is a partner at Sirote & Permutt PC in Birmingham, Alabama. His practice focuses on general business and commercial litigation, including representing lenders in mortgage banking related matters and insurers in bad faith and ERISA related issues. He is an active leader in DRI's Young Lawyers and Diversity Committees.

R. Craig Mayfield is a shareholder with Hill Ward Henderson in Tampa, Florida, where his extensive litigation and trial practice focuses on product liability and complex mass tort claims. Mr. Mayfield is the co-practice group leader for his firm's product liability and personal injury practice groups. He is a former chair of DRI's Young Lawyers Committee, and currently serves on the steering committees for DRI International and DRI's Product Liability Committee.

Emily V. Pastorius is the chief counsel for labor, employment, and litigation at TeleTech Holdings Inc., a global business processes company headquartered in Englewood, Colorado. She oversees all facets of litigation for TeleTech and advises the company and its business units on active litigation and other risks. Prior to joining TeleTech, Ms. Pastorius was a litigator and trial attorney at a national firm and also served as senior corporate counsel at DISH Network LLC.

James L. Pattillo is a litigation partner with the Birmingham, Alabama, firm of Norman Wood Kendrick & Turner. His practice areas include insurance coverage, product liability, professional liability, transportation, and commercial litigation.

Mr. Pattillo has extensive trial experience, having first-chaired over 50 trials to verdict. He was selected as an "Alabama Super Lawyer" (2011–12) and listed in "Top Attorneys" in Birmingham Magazine (2012–13). He is a former chair of DRI's Young Lawyers Committee.

Niall A. Paul is a member of Spilman Thomas & Battle PLLC's Charleston, West Virginia, office. He is the chair of the firm's Battle Group, a practice group devoted to handling high risk complex matters. Mr. Paul has successfully litigated over 100 bench, jury, and administrative trials. He has handled cases ranging from environmental mass torts to wrongful death to commercial and financial fraud.

Andrew S. Pride is an attorney with Ford Motor Company's Office of the General Counsel in the product litigation group in Dearborn, Michigan. Mr. Pride is responsible for litigation arising from various vehicle defect allegations. He manages all aspects of each case with the assistance of national and local counsel. Prior to joining Ford Motor Company, Mr. Pride was a partner at a national law firm.

Gail Rodgers, a partner in DLA Piper's global litigation practice in New York City, focuses on pharmaceutical and medical device litigation, mass torts, product liability, and governmental and internal investigations. Ms. Rodgers has represented a significant number of her firm's Fortune 100 clients, including some of the largest pharmaceutical companies in the world. An active DRI member, she is a steering committee member of DRI's Women in the Law and Drug and Medical Device Committees.

Amber Vincent, a partner at Alyn-Weiss & Associates Inc. in Lakewood, Colorado, researches and writes marketing communication plans for attorneys and firms and then helps clients execute those plans. This includes working with trade and general circulation print and broadcast media editors and reporters, media research, copy writing, and managing special events. Ms. Vincent is also the firm's online marketing specialist, which includes pay-per-click campaigns, SEO strategies, online reputation management, and media relations.

Joshua C. Webb, an associate at Hill Ward Henderson in Tampa, Florida, focuses his practice on commercial litigation and professional liability. He is the program vice chair of this seminar and is also actively involved with DRI's Professional Liability Committee. Mr. Webb serves as an appointed member of the Florida Bar's Young Lawyers Division Board of Governors.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION IN DRI: A STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLE

DRI is the largest international membership organization of attorneys defending the interests of business and individuals in civil litigation.

Diversity is a core value at DRI. Indeed, diversity is fundamental to the success of the organization, and we seek out and embrace the innumerable benefits and contributions that the perspectives, backgrounds, cultures, and life experiences a diverse membership provides.

Inclusiveness is the chief means to increase the diversity of DRI's membership and leadership positions. DRI's members and potential leaders are often also members and leaders of other defense organizations. Accordingly, DRI encourages all national, state, and local defense organizations to promote diversity and inclusion in their membership and leadership.
