Baker Donelson Adds Shaheen I. Imami to Tax Group

December 07, 2020

Baker Donelson has added Shaheen Imami to the Firm's Chattanooga office as a member of the Tax Group.

Mr. Imami brings more than 20 years of experience working with clients on matters concerning trusts, estates and probate litigation. He also counsels clients in the areas of estate administration and estate planning matters and is a certified mediator. Mr. Imami represents fiduciaries and beneficiaries in pre- and post-death administration and litigation matters, including will/trust contests, interpretation issues and alleged breaches of fiduciary duty. He also assists his clients with preparing fiduciary income, gift and estate tax returns, as well as acting as an expert witness in related practice areas.

"Shaheen is a respected attorney with tremendous experience in tax and estate planning law and has demonstrated a commitment to excellence in his practice," said Russell W. Gray, managing shareholder of Baker Donelson's Chattanooga office. "We are pleased to welcome him to the Firm and are confident that his addition will continue to enhance the high level of service we provide to our clients."

Mr. Imami is recognized in the area of Private Wealth Law in the 2020 Chambers High Net Worth Guide and is listed in Best Lawyers in America® and Super Lawyers. He is a Fellow of the American College of Trust and Estate Counsel (ACTEC) and an active member of both the Fiduciary Practice and Fiduciary Litigation Committees within the organization. He is also a member of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Michigan.
