Representative Matters

- Represented a private corporation in connection with the development of a Tennessee technology center. This project involved structuring a payment in lieu of tax lease with a city industrial development board (IDB), a sublease from Tennessee Technology University Foundation and a personal property payment in lieu of tax lease between the IDB and the client. The project also involved economic development grants from the State of Tennessee Department of Economic and Community Development and Tennessee Valley Authority.
- Represented a pet product supplier in acquisitions of several of its distributors. The transactions included purchase of all the outstanding stock of the seller, assignment of numerous commercial leases and due diligence review of corporate assets.
- Advised Tennessee political candidates on election law and campaign finance, including serving as legal counsel for state-wide gubernatorial campaign committee, in addition to helping convicted felons restore their voting rights.
- Represented a developer in connection with the acquisition, development and sale of a hotel project involving the purchase of a surplus state property office building, which was converted into a boutique hotel with twelve residential condominium units. The project was structured as a commercial condominium in connection with an adjoining hotel and involved substantial real estate issues, including cross easements among the condominium units and the financing of each segment of the project.
- Represented the developer in the creation and financing of a theater in downtown Knoxville which included the use of empowerment zone bonds, new market tax credit financing, and tax increment financing.

- Formed and represented a U.S. subsidiary of a Chilean corporation in the acquisition of a U.S. plastics manufacturer.
- Served as landlord's counsel to the municipal corporation in payment in lieu of tax lease projects (PILOT).
- Served as legal counsel and state of Tennessee lobbyist to the Tennessee Oil and Gas Association in connection with the development of fracking regulations for the oil and gas industry in Tennessee.
- Completed review of more than 3,000 product Harmonized Tariff Schedule classifications and submitted Voluntary-Self Disclosure to U.S. Customs and Border Protection to identify nearly $2 million in unpaid duties in order to avoid up to $14 million in penalties on behalf of a U.S. corporation.
- Provided strategic business advice and developed a political plan for a U.S. publicly traded corporation and its foreign subsidiary in response to foreign government threats to legislate a forced sale of the subsidiary and the precipitated withdrawal of a substantial government fine for political reporting unfavorable to the foreign government.
