Gary Shockley is a former leader of Baker Donelson's Government Regulatory Actions Group (2008 – 2014) and has tried a wide variety of complex cases to judges and juries in more than 25 state and federal courts, as well as before administrative agencies and arbitrators.

Gary has been certified as a Civil Trial Specialist by the National Board of Trial Advocacy. His experience includes environmental, personal injury, class action, antitrust, health care and construction cases. In addition, he has represented businesses and individuals in white collar criminal investigations and prosecutions and conducted numerous internal investigations.

His extensive pro bono practice has included representation of inmates on Tennessee's death row, veterans, battered women, children and immigrants. He has served in various leadership positions in the Tennessee Bar Association, including on its Board of Governors and as chair of its Litigation and Environmental Law Sections, and as a character and fitness investigator for the Tennessee Board of Law Examiners and a District Hearing Committee officer for the Board of Professional Responsibility. A frequent speaker and author, Gary has published more than 35 articles on evidence, civil and criminal procedure, legal history and related topics.

Representative Matters

- Defended a food processing facility in a Clean Water Act (CWA) citizen suit and common law nuisance action by 45 neighbors complaining of alleged odors and overflow from discharge to a city sewer system, resulting in a jury awarding no damages against the client after a three-week federal trial and a favorable post-trial settlement on the remaining CWA claims.
- Represented a quarry operator in an action alleging nuisance from quarry operations, including property damage, noise and dust from controlled blasting, resulting in a defense verdict following a two-week jury trial.
- Represented a TVA engineering contractor in a putative class action arising out of the collapse of the Kingston Fossil Plant ash pond, successfully opposing certification of a proposed class of 5,000 property owners seeking over $900 million in alleged lost property value from the spill, and subsequently secured dismissal of the action on derivative immunity grounds.
- Defended pesticide manufacturer in opposing certification of proposed class of property owners affected by historic wastewater discharges to creek. Following Rule 23 certification hearing, class certification was denied by U.S. Magistrate Judge and, on appeal, by U.S. District Court Judge (federal court).
- Represented a health insurer in putative class action on behalf of state medical association member-physicians, alleging breach of contract, unjust enrichment, and violation of Tennessee Consumer Protection Act; secured order compelling arbitration from trial court and affirmance on appeal (state court).
- Represented a convenience store chain in state and federal civil litigation arising out of alleged improper sales of discounted and untaxed cigarettes; successfully defended federal RICO action and motion for preliminary injunction and secured favorable settlement (state and federal court).
- Represented Tennessee Death Row inmate in twelve years of state post-conviction and federal habeas corpus actions, including multi-day evidentiary hearing in U.S. District Court; secured reversal of death sentence in Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals and favorable plea agreement on remand to state court.

- Conducted numerous internal investigations for manufacturers and private correctional facilities
- Secured the dismissal of $50 million tort and punitive damages claims for malicious prosecution against health insurer by former network provider, resolving issue of first impression under Tennessee statute. Following remand, represented insurer in twelve-day jury trial on remaining breach of contract claim, resulting in jury verdict of zero.
- Represented a purchaser under long-term output agreement in breach of contract claim against operator of zinc mines in Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Texas. Secured multi-million dollar settlement shortly before trial.
