

Patrick Hanlon

Associate

Baltimore | 410.862.1176 | phanlon@bakerdonelson.com

Patrick Hanlon assists clients in a variety of litigation matters.

Patrick Hanlon is an associate in Baker Donelson's Baltimore office and assists clients in litigation matters in state and federal courts across Maryland. Mr. Hanlon's experience includes medical malpractice, premises liability, employment, products liability, education, civil rights, and insurance defense matters.

While attending law school, Mr. Hanlon served in Public Defender's offices in New Orleans and Fredericksburg, Virginia and provided legal assistance as a student attorney to indigent clients charged with misdemeanor offenses.

Prior to joining Baker Donelson, Mr. Hanlon served as a law clerk to the Honorable Pamela J. White in the Circuit Court for Baltimore City. He was later an associate attorney at a mid-sized civil litigation defense firm in Baltimore.

Professional Honors & Activities

- Member – Maryland State Bar Association
- Member – Bar Association of Baltimore City

Education

- Washington and Lee University School of Law, J.D., 2019
- University of Tennessee, B.A., 2016, cum laude

Admissions

- Maryland, 2019
- District of Columbia, Pending
- U.S. District Court of Maryland, 2021
- U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit