Kenneth Klemm Profiled in Energy Executive Magazine

Kenneth Klemm talks with Energy Executive magazine about his role as co-chair of Baker Donelson's Oil & Gas Industry Service Team and some of the most challenging issues facing energy clients.

"Some of the more challenging issues seem to be maintaining company value while continuing to invest in the operations and people that make an oil and gas company successful. From a legal perspective, clients have faced the need to decrease costs in all aspects of their operations, including legal expenses and potential exposure to monetary claims. The oil and gas industry faces obstacles such as increased governmental regulations on operations to decreased prices for natural gas that require continual adjustments in how operators, transporters and service providers do business. From a legal services standpoint, it remains important to understand how these pressures impact your clients and how to work as a team with your clients to address their legal needs."
