

NEWS

---

Scott Carey Provides Insight on Attracting National Law Firms to Nashville in Nashville Business Journal

In this Nashville Business Journal article, leaders at area law firms predict when a national Top 25 firm might set up an office in Nashville, and what might be the catalyst for such an entrance into the market. Scott Carey, managing shareholder of Baker Donelson's Nashville office, comments on the city's opportunity, noting, "Law firms expand into areas where there is opportunity. Nashville is certainly a city on the rise, and as more companies recognize that fact and seek to do business here, those law firms are likely to take note and follow."

Read the Article (subscription required)