

PRESS RELEASE

Noah Kressler Joins Baker Donelson's Corporate Finance and Securities Group

July 06, 2015

(New Orleans, LA / July 6, 2015) Noah Kressler has joined Baker Donelson's New Orleans office as of counsel in the Firm's Corporate Finance and Securities Group.

Mr. Kressler is an experienced corporate finance and transactional attorney whose practice covers a wide range of capital markets, securities law and general corporate matters. He has significant experience advising public and private companies, financial institutions, private equity sponsors, investment banks and stockholders in public and private offerings of equity and debt, including initial public offerings, follow-on and secondary offerings, private placements, strategic investments and acquisition financing. He also advises clients on general corporate and business matters, corporate governance issues and securities law compliance. Mr. Kressler represents clients across numerous industries, including financial services, health care, retail, internet and entertainment and media.

"Noah brings a high level of national and international experience in the corporate and securities industry and we are pleased to welcome him to the Firm," said Tonya Mitchem Grindon, chair of Baker Donelson's Corporate Finance and Securities Group. "His background in capital markets and corporate finance broadens the depth of our capabilities as we continue to serve our clients in New Orleans and throughout the Southeast."

Mr. Kressler joins Baker Donelson from Weil, Gotshal & Manges LLP, where he practiced in New York and London. He is a graduate of Tulane Law School, where he has served as an adjunct professor of law.
