

PRESS RELEASE

Jeffrey I. Davis Joins Baker Donelson

March 13, 2018

Jeffrey I. Davis has joined the Washington, D.C. office of Baker Donelson as a senior advisor in the Government Relations and Public Policy Group and as of counsel with the Firm.

Mr. Davis helps clients navigate the complex policy and legal issues surrounding the 340B drug pricing program, including Medicare and Medicaid-related compliance requirements, and provides clients with strategic policy advice and counsel on health care matters. Mr. Davis counsels clients on issues relating to 340B such as enrollment, contracting, audits, compliance with 340B, Medicare, and Medicaid requirements, and self-disclosures, as well as other health care matters. He also provides advocacy and policy services to health care providers.

Prior to joining Baker Donelson, Mr. Davis served as vice president and legislative and policy counsel for 340B Health, a nonprofit organization of more than 1,300 hospitals and health systems participating in the 340B drug pricing program. During his more than seven years with 340B Health, he provided hospitals with technical assistance on 340B, Medicare, and Medicaid program compliance issues, oversaw research and policy efforts, and helped lead the government relations team in their work to educate members of Congress and their staff on the importance of the 340B program to hospitals and their patients.

"Jeff brings an in-depth understanding of the 340B drug pricing program and will provide exceptional counsel on the many issues related to this complicated area of health law and policy, as well as other health related matters. His insight and experience in this and other areas such as Medicare and Medicaid will be of tremendous value to our clients," said Sheila P. Burke, chair of Baker Donelson's Government Relations and Public Policy Group. "We're thrilled to add Jeff to our team."

Mr. Davis previously served as the health care legislative assistant for U.S. Representative Shelley Berkley (D-NV), where he advised Rep. Berkley on health care issues and legislation before Congress and the House Ways and Means Committee and partnered with health care providers to promote increased Medicare funding for hospitals, physicians, nursing homes, acute care and long term care facilities, and other providers.

A graduate of Boston University School of Law, Mr. Davis is a frequent speaker at major industry forums, making regular presentations at annual 340B Coalition conferences, state hospital association meetings, drug manufacturer conferences, and other professional association events.