

You are cordially invited to attend our Employment Law Breakfast Briefing presented by the Labor & Employment Group of Baker Donelson

Legislation Update:
The Employee Free Choice & RESPECT Acts

The Employee Free Choice (EFCA) and RESPECT Acts represent the most sweeping changes to labor law in the past 60 years. The EFCA would eliminate secret ballot elections and replace them with a "card check" process. The EFCA would also force government-written contracts on unwilling parties through a process of mandatory arbitration. The RESPECT Act would dilute the definition of supervisor under the National Labor Relations Act, greatly increasing the number of employees eligible to join unions. President-elect Obama supports both Acts and as President will likely have the opportunity to sign both into law. This briefing will cover how these Acts will impact your workforce and what you can do to lessen that impact.

Thursday, February 12, 2009
7:30 a.m. - 8:30 a.m.

Rogersville Chamber of Commerce
U.S. Bank – Community Room
102 East Main Street
Rogersville, Tennessee

Attorneys representing Baker Donelson:
Steven H. Trent and Chad E. Wallace

This program is pending approval for HRCI credit.

*Complimentary meal and program provided. Seating is limited.
Please R.S.V.P. by Tuesday, February 10 to Laralee Harkleroad at 423.928.0181 or lharkleroad@bakerdonelson.com.*

www.bakerdonelson.com